Sir: As a regular subscriber to your valued journal, I trust you will spare me space for a few remarks relative to a subject which I look upon as of the utmost importance to us at the present time. I refer to a statement said to emanate from the War Department, and relating to small arms for our volunteer forces. The statement is that "the tary of the Interior, to-day was the recipient of a question of the armament of the troops with proper

Lieutenant-Colonel Rocsevelt, who is unanimously credited with doing some of the stiffest rifle work in that trying hour, says there were nearly fifteen hundred Spaniards in front and to the sides of the Rough Riders when the first deadly volley was fired from the brush. PREMATURE TALK OF PEACE.

From The New-Orleans Picayone.

Letters for soldiers in the field should be addressed plainly. Name, rank, company and regiment should be stated. The name of the State from which the organization comes should always be given, because there may be regiments in the same camp from various States having the same that washington and Bermine things. It must be clear to every one that it is not a theory of neutrality, but the facts of its application that determine things at Manila, Hence whatever Washington and Berlin may understand as to the presence of five German men-of-war in Manila Bay is all very well, but to Manila itself the effect may be entirely the opposite of that diplomacy declares is intended. Madrid may have no illusions. Washington and Berlin may understand one another, but to Augusti five warships to look after forty Germans and the "hochs" of happy officers who have just finished another hamper of champagne can only mean one thing-interference.

publican General Committee for several years, and was treasurer and member of the Executive Committee. While Senator he became involved in the Woodruff-Baldwin scandal. It was alleged that Hirkett, who was supporting Baldwin, indorsed some of the notes and photographed them. This did much to widen the breach that has since separated the Platt and anti-Platt elements. It also made an end to Mr. Bitkett's political career. He was defeated for renomination as Senator by Jutge Joseph Aspinall, and had never since been a figure in politics.

Some years preclaus to this he had gone into the hustness of a contractor and secured the contracts aggregating $1.50.55 for erecting several of the large suidings in Kings Park. Payment for come of the work was refused and when he tried to other the money by law he was defeated in the course. He succeeded in recovering some of the money through a special act of the Legislature that he had passed.

THE CEREMONY, MARRIED. Lexington, Ky., June 30 (Special) .- Miss Harriet B. Richardson and James Tandy Ellis were married here at 8 o'clock this morning at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. E. Innis, by Dean Herbert Lewis, of the Episcopal Cathedral. There were no witnesses, save immediate members of the family The bride wore a tailor-made travelling suit and carried a bunch of roses.

Mrs. Ellis is the young woman who created a sensation las, winter by declaring that she ought to name the battle-ship Kentucky, using old Bourto name the battle-ship Kentucky, using old Bourbon whiskey, because she had promised ex-Secretary Herbert that she would do so, at a theatre party in the Shoreham at Washington, the night it was decided to rame one of the new battle-ships in honor of this State.

The ship not being ready for naming until Secretary Long was in office, he designated Governor Bradley's daughter as the proper person to name the ship. Miss Richardson denounced Secretary Long in the press of the country, and caused herself to be severely criticised in the public prints. Then her discarded lover, Mr. Ellis, came to her assistance by writing articles in the newspapers pleading her cause. They settled their former quarrel, and the engagement was announced about the time the Kentucky was launched. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will live in Louisville.

From The Boston Herald. From The Boston Herald.

The part which Massachusetts has taken and is taking in the present war is one of which her citizens have a right to be proud. We have referred to the fact that when deeds of during are called for, as in the sinking of the Merrimac, where more than half of the men chosen to carry out the work were of Mussachusetts origin, sons of the Bay State are in demand.

Our Government should not permit talk of peacs to cause any relaxation of the energy with which the war is being now prosecuted. The surest way to bring about an early settlement is to hurry the preparations for an attack on Havana. Now that we are at war, we might as well put an end for-ever to Spanish rule in this hemisphere. GERMAN WARSHIPS AT MANILA.

Mrs. Miller's attorneys moved her discharge on the ground that in Reid's case it was decided by the jury that no such murder had been committed, hence Mrs. Miller could not be an accomplice. Judge Bennett sustained this view.

The case is identical with that of Governor Atkinson's wife, who is charged with forging papers uttered by J. C. Owens. Owens has been acquitted, but Mrs. Arkinson is still under indictment. Her attorneys will hold that since no forged documents were uttered by Owens, Mrs. Atkinson cannot have forged such documents.
